Organizational Qualifications:

1. Describe your organization's experience implementing services relevant to the services described in the Youth, Young Adult and Adult Employment RFP, including to those who are furthest from resources and opportunities and who face systemic barriers to employment.

WRTP | BIG STEP's Madison's Skilled Worker Program (MSWP) focuses on preparing adult participants with the skills and credentials needed to secure employment in the regional manufacturing and construction sectors, along with access to supportive services. We predominately focus on providing services to BIPOC, women, unemployed and underemployed individuals as evidence shows that these populations face the greatest socioeconomic barriers for obtaining quality jobs. The skilled trades have been proven to effectively provide individuals with access to family-sustaining wages and job security. WRTP | BIG STEP provides industry-focused recruitment, screening, orientation, job readiness training, and job placement assistance. We work with each participant to develop an individualized career plan which identifies the person's area of interest and lays out the pathway to achieving employment goals. Based on individualized assessments, a participant will either enter directly into career pathways training with WRTP | BIG STEP, or be enrolled into educational or vocational preparation activities, such as basic education (trades have prerequisite of math and reading scores), GED or HSED. Based on the participant's individualized career plan and level of skill and interest, they can enroll in WRTP | BIG STEP's pre-apprenticeship programs; Entry Level Construction Skills (ELCS) or Entry Level Manufacturing Skills (ELMS). WRTP | BIG STEP has the curriculum, resources, and regional community and employer partnerships in the construction and manufacturing industries that provide equitable access to jobs that improve people's lives.

2. Describe how your agency builds relationships and authentically engages with individuals and households served. Specifically include information on previous strategies used to authentically engage with BIPOC, LGBTQ+, immigrant and/or low-income households and individuals.

Though WRTP | BIG STEP provides services to individuals of all ages, races, genders, and ethnicities, our mission is focused on predominately serving BIPOC, women, unemployed and underemployed individuals that have been traditionally disenfranchised from employment opportunities within the construction and manufacturing industries. The battle has been hard-fought to link BIPOC, women, unemployed and underemployed individuals to apprenticeships which lead to family sustaining careers. Experience shows that finishing an apprenticeship program can be difficult. WRTP | BIG STEP provides a bridge for underrepresented groups to enter the trades while providing a valuable workforce service to local employers. In response to systemic employment barriers that these populations face, WRTP | BIG STEP provides career coaching, support with navigating employment barriers (from education, childcare, obtaining a driver's license, etc.), preparation for employment opportunities, and retention services that help ensure that individuals stay employed and feel empowered and stable in their new career and life. While our daily work is centered on providing career exploration, pre-employment training, apprenticeship mentorship, and support services to participants, our goal is to diversify the key economic drivers in Madison so that more people can share in the prosperity they generate.

3. Describe your organization's experience, education and training requirements for program staff and management staff.

WRTP | BIG STEP's South Central staff live and work in Madison. They frequently conduct outreach events, trainings, workshop sessions and career fairs with and for Madison residents. WRTP | BIG STEP works to ensure that our program and management staff come with the experience, education and training requirements needed to deliver culturally competent and responsive programs and services to participants. The President and Chief Executive Officer is a nonprofit organization professional with 20 years of experience in executive leadership, strategic planning, entrepreneurship, social enterprise, and innovation. The Chief Operating Officer is a Certified Workforce Development Professional and has 25 years of experience developing workforce programs. The recently promoted Lead Program Coordinator is bilingual and has 20+ years of working with communities and persons of color to create and implement empowering programs. The Data and Compliance team has 50 years combined experience of maintaining regulatory compliance by researching and communicating contract requirements, preparing reports by collecting, analyzing, and summarizing information, maintaining quality service by establishing and enforcing organization standards, and by contributing to program success by evaluating internal operations and procedural compliance. The Fiscal Department works to ensure adherence in GAP. The Board of Directors' Governance Committee is involved with regularly reviewing contracts.

Partnerships, Collaboration & Coordination

1. Describe your current and recent collaboration and partnerships with the following groups, specifying organization names, collaboration/partnership dates, and information about your shared work and accomplishments.

a. Organizations and groups that work with youth, young adults and/or adults.

WRTP | BIG STEP and the Boys and Girls Club of Dane County (BGCDC) have been partner organizations since 2021 to provide quality education and career pathways to emerging adult program participants (ages 18-24). BGCDC exposes career paths to youth participants, as early as elementary level students, and works to create long-term goals and plans for each participant based on their interests. BGCDC has its TOPS College Success Program which prepares students to earn college degrees, however, recognizing that two and four-year degree programs are not for everyone, WRTP | BIG STEP offers alternative career pathway options for emerging adults interested in the skilled trades and works with them to enroll in our pre-apprenticeship programs. WRTP | BIG STEP has skilled trades instructors that offer pre-apprenticeship training at the McKenzie Regional Workforce Center.

b. Organizations that provide pre-employment/career preparation, employment services, and/or training and education.

WRTP | BIG STEP and the Latino Workforce Adacemy (LWA) have been partner organizations since 2017 to provide more pathways to building family-supporting jobs by addressing Wisconsin's Commercial Driver's License worker shortage. In this partnership, both organizations work together with LWA workplace coaches and resource navigators so that childcare, transportation, health or other issues do not prevent students from achieving their education and career goals. We work collaboratively to expand the recruitment pipeline for CDL candidates, particularly among BIPOC adults as well as underrepresented populations of women, retirees, veterans and young adults (ages 18-24). We candidates' training and employment success by strengthening the resource navigator model, providing information and access to needed wraparound services such as childcare, healthcare access, and financial support. We also participate in the LWA's program advisory committee, which meets regularly to communicate about community trends and share best practices about strategies for student success. We also work together on collecting data about program outcomes and develop a model of collaboration that will inform strategies for similar partnerships in other regions in Wisconsin.

WRTP | BIG STEP and Operation Fresh Start (OFS) have been partner organizations since 2017 to develop a Build Academy to help emerging adults transition into successful employment in the skilled trades. WRTP |BIG STEP and OFS co-enroll all program participants ages 17-24 in programming leading to a pre-apprenticeship certification and MC3 certification. The Pre-Apprenticeship certification is recognized by the Bureau of Apprenticeship Standards and the MC3 (Multi-Craft Core Curriculum) is certified by North America's Building Trades Union (NABTU). MC3 is an apprenticeship readiness training curriculum developed and approved by the Building Trades National Apprenticeship and Training Committee in 2008. The MC3 was created to provide high quality, apprentice-level content to people interested in construction, to prepare them for careers in the industry and to provide a gateway into Building Trades' registered apprenticeship programs. MC3 has two primary goals; (1) to increase the number of candidates for apprenticeship across all trades; to increase the diversity of apprenticeship candidates by recruiting women, communities of color, and veterans, and (2) increase the retention rate among apprentices by providing them with a deeper understanding of both the industry and the role of the trade unions in construction.

- c. Organizations and groups that focus on working with, or have a history of working with, low-income households, women, and those that are Black, Indigenous, People of Color (BIPOC), immigrants, and/or individuals who identify as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer + (LGBTQ+).

WRTP | BIG STEP and The Playing Field (TPF) have worked collaboratively since 2021 to provide more pathways to building family-supporting jobs by addressing access to modern facilities that provide high-quality, safe and affordable child care. WRTP | BIG STEP is prepared to work with TPF to provide technical assistance in best practices in data management and contract compliance as well as working with their Family Support Worker to assist parents and caregivers with real pathways to family-sustaining waged jobs. This is accomplished by accessing our apprenticeship training, tutoring, coaching and support services network. Our partnership demonstrates and bolsters our mission of striving to ensure that traditionally underrepresented and underemployed people, particularly women and people of color, have access to education, training, and supportive equitable workforce placement opportunities and childcare is a critical component to these outcomes. This assists Wisconsin's high-road employers build a diverse, skilled and trained talent pipeline.

2. Describe your plans to partner, collaborate, and coordinate services with organizations and groups, including names and partnership details. Please explain why and how these collaborations benefit the participants served. Organizations that identify key partnerships must provide written documentation of agreement/commitment from each listed partner.

WRTP | BIG STEP has existing partnerships with the above named organizations, however additional funding from the City of Madison would allow us to expand our capacity to reach more program participants and therefore strengthen the local workforce.

Program Design

1. Describe the organization's program and proposed service delivery plan including recruitment and selection of participants, individual assessment process, anticipated number to be served, who will be served, duration, location, and goals.

The Madison's Skilled Workers Program (MSWP) will support workforce development by strengthening access to family-sustaining jobs for BIPOC, women, unemployed and underemployed Madison residents in the construction and manufacturing industries. Access to these career pathways can provide the opportunity to escape poverty, support a family and strengthen overall long-term economic growth. WRTP | BIG STEP will provide industry-focused recruitment, screening, orientation, job readiness training, and worksite training. WRTP | BIG STEP will collaborate with community partners to recruit, assess and provide placement opportunities for individuals in family sustaining careers.

WRTP | BIG STEP serves all of Madison. The location sites for WRTP | BIG STEP's programs, trainings and services include WRTP | BIG STEP's South Central office (2829 Perry St #205, Madison, WI 53713), Madison Technical College for ELCS training (1701 Wright St, Madison, WI 53704), McKenzie Regional Workforce Center (1818 W Beltline Hwy, Madison, WI 53713), and various skilled trades training centers in Madison. We are flexible and offer services throughout Madison and will meet participants in neighborhoods, schools, job centers, and at community based organizations.

Part of the entrance process is developing an individualized career plan which identifies the person's area of interest. Depending on this individualized assessment, a participant will either enter career pathways training with WRTP | BIG STEP, or be enrolled into skills training such as those focusing on increasing an individual's math and reading scores, or enrollment into GED or High School Equivalency Diploma services. Based on the participant's career plan and level of skill, the training will include WRTP | BIG STEP's Entry Level Construction Skills (ELCS), which is an industry recognized program that helps to prepare individuals for a career in the Construction Trades, BIG STEP Apprenticeship Readiness training or Entry Level Manufacturing Skills (ELMS). Embedded in these trainings are other industry recognized certifications such as OSHA 10, First Aid, and CPR, Commercial Drivers Licensing (CDL) prep, and other certificate trainings.

Participants will be walked through an extensive testing and assessment process to explore goals, interests, abilities, work experience and potential barriers to participating in a training program. The testing instruments are TABE, Accuplacer, and other employer specific tests depending of the selected industry and training program. Test criteria and results are employer-driven and linked to hiring requirements in order to assist staff members with the direct placement of workers and with referral to necessary and reasonable support services to address job readiness and retention issues.

Program duration time can vary based on the participant's readiness level, but the ELCS program is 12 weeks and the ELMS program is 4-6 weeks. All participants will receive a base level of services, but depending on need, the number will increase. Each participant will receive an initial orientation, intake/assessment, career guidance and career plan development. There are also periodic meetings to assess progress. All the skilled trades require participants to pass trade tests which require individual instruction/ math and reading (10-40 hrs), and depending on the career goal and math level this number can grow to 60-80 hrs. All participants receive employability skills featuring digital and financial literacy. Those participating in hands on trainings commit to avg. 64 hrs. Job search can average 10-20 hrs./week. Post-program, graduates receive periodic follow-up supportive services and check-ins.

Following completion of the program, WRTP | BIG STEP staff will provide individual placement assistance to every participant, one-on-one or in groups depending on the types of positions for which individuals have been trained. Our placement services for each individual include resume preparation, interviewing skills and job development and job matching. The high level of employer involvement in all phases of our services is the most important factor in placing our participants, and therefore, employers will assist staff in matching individuals to job openings.

WRTP | BIG STEP is designed to meet the cultural and social needs of Madison residents preparing for employment, as well as remediate key challenges related to basic employment requirements: possession of a valid driver's license and a high school degree or GED/HSED. Our experience demonstrates that we reach and serve diverse populations in Madison.

With funding from the City of Madison, WRTP | BIG STEPS's goal is to reach and serve 120 unduplicated persons from 01.01.23 to 12.31.23. Of the 120 unduplicated persons, the goal is to have no less than 75% of them placed with regional construction or manufacturing employers earning family-sustaining wages with competitive benefits.

2. Describe the outreach/marketing methods the organization intends to employ to generate participation in the program and to reach the targeted populations considered priority for this funding.

WRTP | BIG STEP will market our program, services, and outcomes to Madison residents, as well as work with local employers and community partners to identify potential participants. We will use targeted social media outreach, press releases, community boards and ads to educate and familiarize people with our services. We will also use local sites (libraries) and community partners to host orientation sessions and share materials. We will utilize an outreach referral network so that we have a continuous enrollment process. Our Program Coordinator receives participant referrals from Boys and Girls Club of Dane County, Operation Fresh Start, FSET, Latino Workforce Academy, The Playing Field, Just Dane, Community Supervision Employment Program, and the County Huber Center. This collaboration unites organizations that work with underrepresented populations to allow for cross referrals, jointly manage caseloads, offer added services to participants and manage expectations between partners.

3. Describe how your program includes input or suggestions from target population served in your program design and operation.

At the end of each cohort, graduation ceremonies are held which serves as an opportunity to celebrate their successes, as well as offer an opportunity to share reflections and recommendations for program improvements with staff. The MSWP program will have a Participant Satisfaction Survey to ensure that all feedback is captured to allow opportunities for program design improvement and operations.

Theory of Change & Logic Model

1. Describe how your proposed services are based on evidence of success, and how you will meet performance outcomes while maintaining quality services customized to each participant’s needs. Please include the following in your response:

- a. Past service outcomes and other accomplishments that validate your approach.
- b. Best practices and proven resources for youth, young adults, and/or adults you will utilize.
- c. How you will incorporate past experience with performance tracking and reaching outcomes, including challenges overcome.

a. WRTP | BIG STEP established a presence in South Central Wisconsin beginning in September 2014. Since then, we have provided educational opportunities to hundreds of individuals and connecting graduates with family-sustaining waged careers. This model was built upon more than 25 years’ worth of successful experience in Southeast Wisconsin. Our past service outcomes and accomplishments are the result of intentional Madison area community partnerships including Madison Technical College, the Boys and Girls Club of Dane County, FSET, Operation Fresh Start, Latino Workforce Academy, Building and Construction Trades Council of South Central Wisconsin, and the Workforce Development Board of South Central. In collaboration with these partners, we can provide programs, trainings and services that holistically serve the needs of Madison residents.

b. An essential best practice is developing and maintaining relationships with community partners who help us be culturally accessible to a range of populations based upon culture and situation. We intimately understand the community and how to connect to the diverse communities of Madison. We combine these strengths with strong, culturally competent staff to better connect low-income BIPOC communities and women to the skilled trades. Our staff will develop a career/service plan designed to leverage the services and resources to increase success for our participants. WRTP | BIG STEP will utilize our community partnerships for the benefit of the participants. The result for participants is an integrated, personal response that leads to success.

c. WRTP | BIG STEP will provide program tracking and data management through its Efforts to Outcomes (ETO) data system. This participant level system gathers information at intake on demographics and socioeconomic factors, documents each program activity beginning at intake, progressing through other services. Staff maintains the ETO database and will provide timely data recording and reporting. The Contracts and Compliance Department provides quality monitoring and integrity. Through the data collection processes, our staff will monitor program outcomes and implement program improvement plans as needed.

2. Please describe current and past success in engaging community members and service recipients in developing and improving services.

The primary goal of WRTP | BIG STEP is developing a skilled and diverse workforce for careers in construction and manufacturing. This can only be accomplished with strong partnerships. We realize that working with and within the community is vital for our organization. We work with all key elements to help our participants succeed. We partner closely with Industry and work towards their “buy in” of working with our participants. These relationships produce career opportunities for all the diverse communities in Madison. Our organization is designed from top to bottom to reflect this reality. Unlike many organizations with a range of programs, this is our singular focus. Our industry relationships (contractors & skilled trades) are unmatched in Madison.

Secondly, we have developed a strong relationship with Madison Technical College. This provides our participants access to a wide range of educational services. It also permits us to work with families and provide services with an intergenerational approach. Likewise our work with the Madison Metropolitan School District and continuing education entities ensure a variety of experiences for participants based on learning styles, needs and educational goals.

We also have a vibrant range of community organization partnerships. To ensure clear expectations and delivery of programs and services resulting in successful outcomes, we have formalized agreements that define how we partner with community based organizations that work with BIPOC, women, unemployed and underemployed populations. Our partnership agreements clarify roles, relationships, accent existing agency strengths, allow for cross referrals, jointly manage caseloads, offer additional services to participants and manage expectations between partners. By committing to partnership agreements, partner agencies gain a better understanding of each other’s focus and strength and can uniquely define how to be helpful. Since each organization is different (mission, population, geography, strength, services, etc.), partnership agreements are crafted to define the specific partnerships. It also provides a method to receive feedback for services as well as help in jointly planning for services.

The three core elements (industry, educational organizations and community organizations) are integrated into our program planning, administration and evaluation of program services.

3. Please describe your plan to meaningfully involve service recipients, including past, present and potential recipients, in ongoing design, flexing and improvement of proposed youth, young adult, and/or adult employment services.

A critical component to our success is that we listen to our participants. We have an open door policy to current and past participants and we have learned much from them how to improve program services. Our graduates provide feedback via graduation interviews, retention screenings and periodic post-placement check-ins. Graduates are also represented in our full- and part-time permanent staff, on our Board of Directors and on our industrial advisory councils. We will develop a Participant Satisfaction Survey specific to MSWP so that we can ensure that we are providing the highest quality of care and services for our participants and employer partners. This data will be collected at the conclusion of each cohort and will be reviewed by WRTP | BIG STEP staff for consideration of future program improvements.

Re: Letter of Commitment for the Latino Academy of Workforce Development Regional Transportation Training Center

Dear Workforce Innovation Grant Committee,

This letter confirms our commitment to partner with the Latino Academy of Workforce Development on the proposed Regional Transportation Training Center for South Central Wisconsin. Our community needs more pathways to building family-supporting jobs by addressing Wisconsin's Commercial Driver's License worker shortage.

In this partnership, we will support the success of the project by working together with the Latino Academy workplace coaches and resource navigators so that childcare, transportation, health or other issues do not prevent students from achieving their education and career goals. We have well-established connections with the Latino Academy and their students and will continue our partnership in this new program.

We will work collaboratively to expand the recruitment pipeline for CDL candidates, particularly among BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, People of Color) adults as well as underrepresented populations of women, retirees, veterans and young adults (aged 18-24). We will support these candidates' training and employment success by strengthening the program's resource navigator model, providing information and access to needed wraparound services such as childcare, healthcare access, and financial support.

We will also participate in the Latino Academy's program advisory committee, which meets regularly to communicate about community trends and share best practices about strategies for student success. We will work together with the Latino Academy on collecting data on program outcomes and develop a model of collaboration that will inform strategies for similar partnerships in other regions in Wisconsin. We will accomplish these initiatives with a commitment of $149,991 over the grant term. Our in-kind match of $26,894 will be provided through supervisory and capital expenditures.

Together, we will substantially increase employment levels in Wisconsin's trucking industry, bringing family-sustaining jobs and well-being to more Wisconsin residents. We look forward to working with you in this collaborative effort.

Sincerely,

Lindsay A. Blumer

Workforce Innovation Grant Program
Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation

Madison, WI 53703

Dear Community Impact Grant Review Committee:

The South Central Office of WRTP | BIG STEP (Big Step) is looking forward to deepening our partnership with Operation Fresh Start to develop a Build Academy focusing on helping emerging adults transition into successful employment in the union Building and Conservation trades. Operation Fresh Start is the preeminent organization in helping young adults make this transition in Dane County.

Unions empower workers to make their voices heard on the issues that matter to them. When workers join together in solidarity, negotiating contracts in their best interests becomes more successful. According to the Economic Policy Institute, union workers earn an average of 13.2 percent higher wages than their non-union counterparts, and are more likely to have employer-provided benefits like premium health insurance, paid time off and a retirement plan. Unions represent workers across all levels of education, race and ethnicity, and promote a message of inclusion and equal opportunity.

The construction industry is facing a retirement cliff; with the average first year apprentice starting at the age of 29, and more than 25% of trades workers are within 10 years of retirement. Engaging young people, specifically young people of color, as the next generation of trades workers is necessary to ensure the industry can keep up with the labor demand and grow our economy.

As part of this partnership Big Step and Operation Fresh Start will co-enroll all program participants ages 17 – 24 in programming leading to a pre-apprenticeship certification and MC3 certification. The Pre-Apprenticeship certification is recognized by the Bureau of Apprenticeship Standards. MC3 (Multi-Craft Core Curriculum) is certified by North America's Building Trades Union (NABTU).

MC3 is an apprenticeship readiness training curriculum developed and approved by the Building Trades National Apprenticeship and Training Committee in 2008. The MC3 was created to provide high quality, apprentice-level content to young people interested in construction, to prepare them for careers in the industry and to provide a gateway into Building Trades' registered apprenticeship programs. MC3 has two primary goals; (1) to increase the number of candidates for apprenticeship across all trades; to increase the diversity of apprenticeship candidates by recruiting women, communities of color, and veterans, and (2) increase the retention rate among apprentices by providing them with a deeper understanding of both the industry and the role of the trade unions in construction.
